

ministration's manner of dealing with it.

Recess plans have been several times upset by the crisis and the indecision as to how the government should proceed. Now congress is on the verge of recess again, so that members can go home to campaign, and continuance of the strike difficulties rise once more to make recess plans indefinite.

Saturday morning members read in the papers that the President had decided upon immediate legislation authorizing the government to take over the railroads and anthracite coal mines. Later in the day they were informed that there was no such intention and that the President contemplated no new move in the crisis.

Another Double Rumor.

This morning members of congress were assured that the President would ask for legislation giving him authority to take over mines and railroads if an emergency should become acute while congress is in recess, but with this came the strong intimation that administration leaders had no expectation that it would be necessary for the President to act on such legislation.

Whether there will be another change in the program tomorrow remains to be disclosed, but congressmen generally are making no effort to conceal the fact that they are somewhat disturbed about the administration's indecision.

Some Republican members said tonight that there might be an entirely new administration plan announced tomorrow when the President returns from his vacation. Senator Cummins [Ia.] chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee; Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Secretary of the Interior Fall, and other advisers.

Study Crisis on Vacation.

No one in official life doubts that the President and his advisers are considering the industrial situation. Senator Cummins is known to have taken with him a copy of the bill he proposed to introduce next week which would give the President discretionary authority to take over the roads.

Many Republican leaders are advising against this legislation. Secretary Hoover is known to be against it. As far as the anthracite mine strike is concerned, the feeling here is that there will be a settlement within a few days.

The railroad strike situation, it is argued by many Republican leaders, cannot be improved by government operation, unless, they argue, the government intends to take the roads and surrender on behalf of the railroad executives to the trade unions. This in the end, they say, would settle nothing.

The administration coal commission bill probably will be sent to the President by the end of the week. No definite date is expected in adjusting the differences between the Winslow bill, as passed by the house, and the Borah bill, temporarily sidetracked in the senate yesterday, when the bonus bill is passed.

Dawes May Be Used.

Gen. John J. Pershing and Gen. Charles G. Dawes are under consideration as chief of the American Railway organization should the government find it necessary to seize the transportation lines. It was believed here that the two men also will furnish recommendations for the direction of the interstate commerce commission, under the provisions of the Cummings bill introduced last week, giving the commission power to allocate the shipment of coal to hasten shipments and prevent profiteering.

The other administration coal bill, designed to aid in controlling prices and distribution of coal, will be pressed in both houses this week.

May Replace Borah Plan.

This bill, as introduced in the senate by Mr. Cummins, was considered by committee yesterday and probably will be acted upon tomorrow and then given early consideration in the senate, possibly taking precedence over the Borah bill.

A similar bill was introduced in the house yesterday by Representative Winslow [Mass.], chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, and will be reported from the committee and taken up in the house early in the week.

SWEDISH WETS LEAD IN VOTE ON PROHIBITION

Stockholm Piles Up Big Ballot for Booze.

BULLETIN.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 28.—3 a. m.—The vote early this morning on the proposed constitutional amendment to establish prohibition in Sweden shows on precincts tabulated the following results:

Wets 485,000

Drys 358,000

In Stockholm the count stands:

Wets 142,000

Drys 22,000

The wets swept Stockholm by a tremendous majority, and thousands of persons are still packed in the public squares cheering enthusiastically. The wets are beginning to claim an easy victory.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 27.—Sweden voted today on the question of abolishing the system of rationing hard drinks, which is aimed at the abuse and not the use of alcohol. Figuratively the system is designed to permit the stimulation of the appetite to a point where salt herring tastes like a king's dish, yet to arrest this stimulation before drunkenness sets in. If the drys win the election, Sweden will not be left absolutely thirsty as the proposed amendment provides for a 24 per cent beverage.

The poll did not close until 5 o'clock and no definite results will probably be obtainable until tomorrow. The wets claim they have carried Stockholm and say they developed such strength in the rural districts of south Sweden that they feel confident the prohibition amendment has been defeated.

The dry leaders were equally confident that the rural vote will give them victory.

"Inventor's" Ideas on Booze.

Dr. Ivan Bratt, the inventor of the liquor ration system, does not support the view that alcoholics suffer from a disease necessitating psychopathic wards, humoring, cold water ruses, Turkish baths, and other orthodox treatments for drinkers.

On the contrary he sees the boozefighter as an individual with a weak will—a victim of overwhelming temptations and too lax public opinion. The workhouse, not a sanitarium, is the treatment prescribed by Dr. Bratt.

Plenty of Wine & Beer.

The Swedes in their saloons through rations books at restaurants where three-fifths of a cup is served with a warm meal at the noon dinner. None is served in the morning. Unexpensive drinks like light wines and beer are served without restrictions. Every sixth person in Sweden possesses a ration or motbook.

At this point, Joseph Kaiser, father of the girl, appeared on the front porch and frightened the robbers away by shouting at them.

Bergen, Killed Treacherously, Had No Chance, State Claims

Hackensack, N. J., Aug. 27.—(Special)—"There were no evidences of powder marks on the coat of Jack Bergen, movie actor, who was fatally shot in the home of George Cline, alias George Wain, in Edgewater, Friday night, and I am convinced that it was cold, deliberate murder," said Prosecutor Hart today.

"I am sure that Cline's first confession was improbable. His first story was that after arranging a date following Bergen's admission that he had attacked Cline's wife at Saranac lake some six weeks ago, Bergen led Cline up a flight of stairs to a room where the men were to fight with revolvers, and that Bergen turned around to shoot Cline."

"Cline was shot from gun Bergen and the latter, according to Cline, being a blackjack and made two swings at Cline's head. It was then that Cline says he shot Bergen in self-defense.

In his second statement Cline eliminated the blackjacket and says that when the men reached the room Bergen tried to shoot him unawares, that Bergen was relieved of his gun, and during a struggle for Cline's gun it was accidentally discharged. Cline says he can't tell who pulled the trigger.

"It is as Cline says, the men were close together, there would have been powder marks on the victim's coat. I don't believe there was any planning, but I think Bergen was deliberately murdered after being forced upstairs at the point of a gun."

"The fact that the wound in the back is an inch and a half lower than the wound in the breast suggests that Bergen was shot in the back as he was going upstairs."

May Have Fired for Life.

"Another theory is that he may have been pleading for his life at some distance away when he shot Cline." Cline says for the last few years he has been a location manager for the Fox Film company, has had no sleep since being committed to the Hackensack jail Friday night. He attended the Salvation Army religious service in the jail this morning.

On Saturday, Cline telephoned his sister, Miss Margaret Ward of Philadelphia to come home, and visited him this afternoon with Cline's wife and Charles Lawrence, and Patrick Scullion, Mrs. Cline's brother.

Bergen's mother and his brother, Joseph, today removed his body from the morgue in Fort Lee to their home in Manhattan.

GRAND JURY TO GET HERRIN MINE MURDERS TODAY

Brundage Makes Opening Statement in Case.

By PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, Ill., Aug. 27.—Attorney General Brundage came to Marion this morning, took off his coat and plunged into the work of completing preparation for the opening presentation of evidence tomorrow morning before the grand jury called to investigate the Herrin mine massacre of June 22.

"There is sufficient evidence to warrant indictment," Mr. Brundage said tonight after he had gone over the case with United States Attorney Delos and Special Prosecutor C. W. Chapman. "The evidence we have been getting through our own operations dovetails with the evidence the state authorities have been getting."

No Bias on Grand Jury.

"There is much to be done. We are assured by the state's attorney that the grand jury does not contain a single coal operator nor a coal miner. It is a great thing in a county which holds 40,000 union miners and which depends in so many ways on the coal business."

"We believe we have a grand jury that will do its duty. In addition to the operators whom we have had working there will be a great number of federal agents here. The federal government is cooperating in every way and has been of a great deal of assistance. I shall remain here until the inquiry is well along. The East Louis grand jury investigation will take that long."

Special Deputies for Jail.

Special deputies picked out by the state's attorney, but sworn by the sheriff, have been selecting the grand jury and will take care of witnesses and of accused prisoners. They will have charge of the jail. The sheriff is keeping his hands off, but has consented to leave the state's attorney has asked.

Mr. Brundage will go before the grand jury tomorrow morning after his body of twenty-three men has been recruited by Judge Hartwell, and will make a brief statement of the case to them.

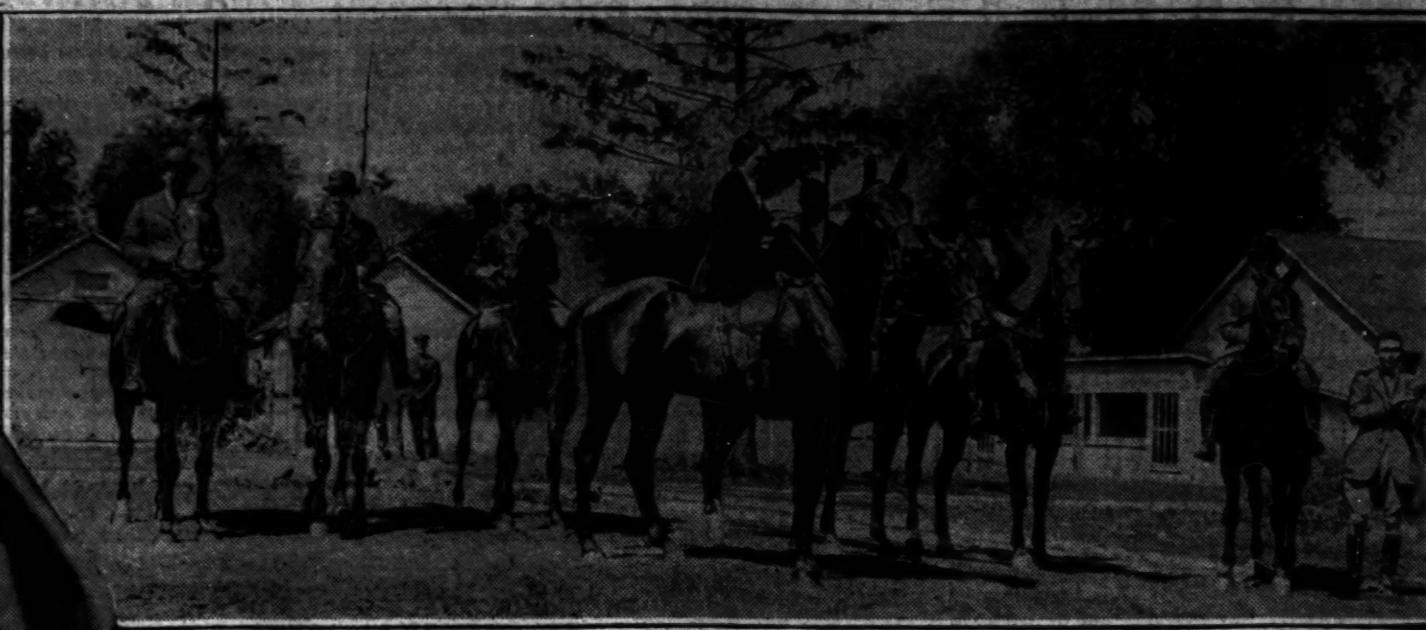

The first witnesses will be the coroner and the sheriff and others who tell the story of conditions at the Southern Illinois Coal company mine that led up to the formation of the riot and the night of terror.

Col. Hunter to Testify.

Col. John N. Hunter of the adjutant general's office arrived this afternoon and will be one of the early witnesses. He was sent here a few days before the riot to find out whether or not steps were needed. The sheriff told that he could handle the situation and that he would not need to call Col. Hunter, however, who close to the situation was the man who advised the star of true and the surrender. He did not, however, provide any protection for the men after they surrendered, and it was then that the massacre took place.

Mr. Brundage said he could not tell how many witnesses would be needed. Attorneys for the defense are gathered in Marion and it is plain the grand jury will be closely watched and that any miners indicted for participation in the riot will be defended by the union. President Frank Farrington was spent in the west, and it was in the western states that the Democrats won the victories which turned the apparently certain triumph of Hughes to a Democratic victory. Mr. Peabody, in addition to financing the western campaign, was largely responsible in its management, being associated with Senator Walsh of Montana, who was then western Democratic manager.

FRANCIS S. PEABODY DIES AFTER WATCHING HUNT

Late in 1918 Mr. Peabody was induced to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator. The Democratic organization in Cook county and the state was behind him and he undoubtedly would have received the Democratic nomination had not business interests caused him to withdraw from the contest. He did considerable towards influencing the Democratic national campaign of 1920, but was not as active as he had been four years previously.

In the coal crisis of 1917, Mr. Peabody was named chairman of the coal production committee of the council of national defense, and for many weeks served in this capacity. At the same time he was appointed chairman of a committee to administer a new act regulating storage of explosives.

Decorated for War Work.

He was a strong supporter of the Salvation Army during the period following the declaration of war, and for his efforts was in July, 1918, awarded the degree of L. H. D., doctor of humane letters, by the Temple University of Philadelphia. He was likewise decorated by the king of the show farms of the nation. His hobbies were dogs, horses and collection of original manuscripts of Robert Louis Stevenson.

Funeral services will be held at the Hinckley home Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be at Hinckley.

H. F. M'CORMICK AND BRIDE TAKE KARLSBAD CURE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

KARLSBAD, Aug. 27.—Following Ellinor Glynn's advice, Mrs. Ganna Walska, McCormick is here taking the cure. The bride, with Harold McCormick, is taking the most rigorous cure of all. In six days she has not eaten a morsel of food and has already reduced twelve pounds. Although Mr. McCormick is not bothered with excessive avoritudo, he is undergoing the heroic cure with his bride, but is snatching light meals to survive the ordeal.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick are occupying separate suites at the Savoy hotel. They arise at 9 o'clock, drink a couple of quarts of water, and then proceed with mud bath, rubbing, massage, dry heat vapors, three hours' luncheon, then a nap, more water, a long walk, water and to bed.

Helen Gould in Hospital; Not in Serious Condition

New York, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, formerly Helen Gould, patient in the Woman's hospital. It was said there that her illness was not serious and that she would probably be out in a few days. She arrived in New York Thursday from the Goulds' summer home at Roxbury, N. Y., and went immediately to the hospital.

Mrs. Shepard was operated on for appendicitis in June, 1918, but since then her health has not had the best of health. She is a daughter of the late Jay Gould and was married to Mr. Shepard Jan. 22, 1912.

COSGRAVE TELLS BRITAIN IRELAND WILL KEEP PACT

Collins' Death Will Not Halt Free State.

BULLETIN.
QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, Aug. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—Seven British artillerymen under Capt. Kennedy from Bere Island, in Bantry bay, landed from a launch at Castletown to draw pay for the troops of the island. They fell into an ambush by irregulars. Fierce fighting ensued and all the ambushing party were either killed or wounded. Capt. Kennedy and most of the members of his party also were wounded.

BULLETIN.
CORK, Aug. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Eamon de Valera is convalescing from wounds in a house near Bandon, according to what is considered authentic information.

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
DUBLIN, Aug. 27.—Assurances that the deaths of Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins will not alter Ireland's determination to live up to the letter of the treaty with England were contained in a note sent to Winston Churchill by William T. Cosgrave, acting chairman of the provisional government, today.

Mr. Cosgrave, who was vice chairman of the provisional government under Mr. Collins, is now fully responsible for the head of the government and is likely to be chosen for the next election, which is hardly possible before January. He is a Dublin business man who has devoted much attention to politics and has been an alderman for many years. As minister of local government in the cabinet he abolished the workhouse system, one of the most corrupt and expensive social institutions in Ireland. He provided jobs for thousands who received above 75 per cent of the money appropriated for the maintenance of workhouses and their inmates.

Strong Supporter of Treaty.

Mr. Cosgrave has been a strong supporter of the treaty from the outset, and his witty speeches in the daili drama caused the minority much disquiet.

More than 10,000 persons lining the route, the body of Michael Collins was removed this evening from the city hall to the pro-cathedral on Malborough street, where after requiem mass tomorrow morning the funeral cortège will start for Glasnevin. It will be a day of mourning with almost complete stoppage of work throughout the twenty-six counties.

Two young Dublin irregulars were captured and shot by others in an automobile to Puckane, in Dublin county, and shot to death. Investigators learned the pair ignored orders to participate in an ambush.

Heavy Fighting in Cork.

CORK, Aug. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The citizens of Cork listened from midnight until early this morning to intensive machine gun and rifle fire followed by several bomb explosions and counter rifle firing. The trouble was due to an attack by irregulars on Free State posts in the city.

The troops in Kerry also were the object of an attack. The irregulars were easily beaten off.

The irregulars suffered heavy casualties, at least twenty of them having been killed in an ambush near Killarney at a place called Fieldown Glen.

NEWLYWED STARS VISIT CITY

MARILYN-JACK SPEED EAST TO FACE ZIEGFELD

Don't Care What 'Sally' Boss Has to Say.

Marilynn Miller, a flutter of film Autumn things, slipped into Chicago yesterday noon for a brief 30 minutes. Just a fraction of a slip behind her was slim Jack Pickford, who's promised to hold that position "till death do them part."

The Pickford jaw jutted just the tiniest bit forward as Jack allowed as how he's going to beard Flo Ziegfeld in his home below and give an alternative to what the "Sally" girl has to say about a young sailor, free, white and slightly better than twenty-one, marrying Marilynn when, where and how he pleases.

Neither the star of "Sally" nor her celluloid hero seemed to care a tinker's utility instrument what Flo has to say about the celebrated match.

"Of course, I'll see Mr. Ziegfeld," said Jack. "What will happen, if anything, isn't worrying either of us."

The merry eyes beside him beamed at the pugnacious lord and maestro.

"Sally" opens in Boston Labor day and Marilynn says she'll be ready to sail from the wings at "call."

"But I hate to think of going to work again," she giggled. "We're very happy and it's been a glorious honeymoon."

Pickford is going "on location" in the east for the company headed by Doug, Mary, Charlie, Charles and Jack. He's forsaken the exotic suns—and moons—of Hollywood to be near his bride.

GERMANY ORDERS BAN ON LUXURIES AS MONEY DROPS

Will Prohibit Export of Sea Foods.

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—[By the Associated Press]—The council of ministers at a meeting last night under President Ebert, decided to restrict the importations of luxuries and to increase duties on exports. These measures have been under consideration since the moratorium.

It is understood that the cabinet also intends to prohibit the export of sea foods and that it will take measures to stop unnecessary luxuries in restaurants.

The cabinet also plans relief for men who were wounded in war and the dependents of those killed, granting concessions to all persons with fixed private incomes. Measures also will be undertaken to assure the proper distribution of food.

MORATORIUM DEADLOCK

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] PARIS, Aug. 27.—The reparations delegation were deadlocked in an extraordinary meeting this morning over the guarantees offered by Germany in return for a moratorium on cash payments.

To allow themselves several more days in which to agree, the commissioners sent an invitation to the German government to present its final case on the moratorium on Wednesday. This was done despite the fact that Sir John Bradbury and M. Maurel, the assistant French delegate, returned only Saturday from Berlin with the latest German memorandum.

Belgium Hides Hand.

Sir John, warmly supported by the Italians, favored a moratorium and acceptance of the industrial guarantees offered by the Germans. Louis Dubois demanded that control of the Ruhr mines and state forests be given to France. During the meeting, the Italian delegate, holding the balance of power, kept both the French and British delegations in doubt as to how he would vote, though the French feel certain Belgian support. A majority vote is necessary to give Germany a moratorium.

The Belgian reparations delegation is still working desperately to try to reconcile the French and British viewpoints. Belgium will be the first to lose if Germany is given a moratorium because of its two and a half billion mark priority; but, being a trading country, she needs a restored Germany.

LUNDIN RETIRES FROM POLITICS? 'BOSH' SAYS IGORE

Mayor Thompson's actions in the recent street car strike, his plan to "grab $3,000,000 from the traction fund" for the purpose of buying busses, and the alleged abdication of Fred Lundin from the throne of the Thompson-Lundin machine were assailed yesterday by Michael L. Igore, addressing several thousand Democrats assembled in the Beverly forest preserve.

"Big Bill" would part with his right eye as cheerfully as he would endure political separation from Fred, Igore said.

"For my part I do not believe that Lundin has abdicated, and neither do the tax-ridden people of Chicago. The explanation Lundin offers for his retirement—that he has a weak back—simply does not explain. No political boss in history ever surrendered voluntarily because the bulging load in his knapsack tested his carrying powers."

Not a Mere Boss.

Lundin from the beginning of Thompson's career has not been a mere boss. He has enjoyed the privileges and emoluments as well as the confidence which princes and kings of the middle ages showered upon their astrologers and soothsayers.

Fred has drawn the horoscopes and the mayor has relied upon them with a confidence that has never been disturbed. Together they have studied the conjunction of the stars and planets and evolved therefrom the continuing series of wondrous policies and actions that have driven the disgruntled community to despair and bankrupted the treasury of the second city of the nation.

Not Thompson's Idea.

Who, think you, evolved that bright idea of grabbing $3,000,000 from the traction fund for the purpose of buying busses and establishing new routes of local transportation? Big Bill? Of course not. That was too smart for Big Bill. That grand idea came out of the smoke and fumes of Alphonse Lundin's laboratory on Randolph street."

GIRL TRIES TO DIE.
Miss Sophia Niesinski, 17 years old, 635 O'Brien street, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by drowning. She was taken to the county hospital, where her condition is serious.

DONOVAN.

DONOVAN PREDICTS SMALL'S RECORD WILL WIN FOR DEMOCRATS

"Disgusted with failure of the Illinois Republican administration to cope with industrial problems, and its failures to relieve them from the burden of high taxes, thousands of stalwart Republicans will vote the Democratic state ticket this year."

This was the statement yesterday of Thomas F. Donovan, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, who is in Chicago to open an active campaign which is expected to result in the third victory the party has won in Illinois since the civil war.

"Illinois normally is a Republican state," he continued, "but sentiment within its confines has undergone a great change in two years."

Republicans have waited in vain for their administration to keep its promises in the matter of taxes. On one of the bills has seen a Republican senate pass a tariff bill which senators admit adds $1,000,000 a year to the high cost of living."

Mayfield, railroad commissioner in the primary election yesterday for Democratic nomination for United States senator was reduced to 58,083 by returns that came in today, the report of the Texas election bureau shows. This count was from 215 counties, including complete returns from forty-nine.

In the lieutenant governor's race T. W. Davidson is leading Col. Billie Mayfield Jr., supposed Klan candidate,

ARMY TRIMMED UNTIL 'TRIMMING' MIGHT BE EASY

Reorganized at Total of 125,000 Men.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.
Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—(Special)—After months of reduction and reorganization the enlisted strength of the regular army of the United States has now been decreased to a mere 125,000 men as provided for in the army appropriation act which the President, secretary of war, Gen. Pershing, chief of staff, and many public spirited citizens resisted.

By reaching this figure the war department announced today, the army is a little more than a year has been cut almost in half, at least 100,000 enlisted men, or 45 per cent of the post-war strength, having been released.

Work Remains the Same.

The problem to make 125,000 men do the work that 225,000 have been doing was enormous, and almost impossible from the standpoint of perfecting an adequate defense for the country and its possessions, but reorganization plans finally have been worked out.

In the redistribution necessary the war department and general staff of the army made every effort to conserve the interests of economy and at the same time provide the best military defense possible within the limits of the limited appropriation act, in view of the fact that the work assigned by the national defense act to the army had been neither altered nor decreased.

The existing strength is 155,000 less than the number authorized by the national defense act, which was enacted as a result of lessons of the world war, and 102,000 less than the authorized peacetime strength before the three part army was created.

How Army Is Distributed.

Distribution of the 125,000 enlisted men, the army announces, has been made as follows: Infantry, 46,422; cavalry, 3,307; field artillery, 12,024; howitzer artillery, 12,024; air service, 5,800; engineers, 5,610; signal corps, 2,184; quartermaster corps, 8,000; finance department, 882; ordnance department, 2,307; chemical warfare service, 445; medical department, 6,850; detached enlisted men's list, 5,704; unallotted, 104.

Under this allotment the authorized strength of the combatant troops is now 128,803 less than post-war and 75,000 less than pre-war authorized strength.

With 29,277 American soldiers allotted to overseas possessions, the regular army is held responsible not only for the maintenance of law and order and protection of life and property, but also for the holding of these strategic positions without reinforcements in the event of emergency.

ALDERMEN BACK FROM EUROPE ON HOWARD LAP

Montreal, Que., Aug. 27.—(Special)—Twelve Chicago aldermen, bronzed and invigorated by their seven weeks' tour of Europe, left Montreal tonight for home. Headed by Ald. John Toman, the officials who visited many cities in Germany, Austria, France, and Great Britain investigating paving and tramways problems, arrived here on the liner Regina.

The aldermen in the party included John Toman, chairman; T. J. Hogan, Robert Mulcahy, John C. Capak, J. O'Brien, Michael J. Kavanagh, C. J. Arnew, Leo C. Klein, Christ Jensen, Max Adamowski, W. J. Lynch, and Terence F. Moran.

While admitting they had gained many valuable hints on their tour, Chairman Toman said: "I would not give one block of my yard for the whole of Europe."

NEW YORK PLANS SUBWAY SYSTEM 237 MILES LONG

New York, Aug. 27.—(Special)—Twelve Chicago aldermen, bronzed and invigorated by their seven weeks' tour of Europe, left Montreal tonight for home. Headed by Ald. John Toman, the officials who visited many cities in Germany, Austria, France, and Great Britain investigating paving and tramways problems, arrived here on the liner Regina.

Concerning the city's present investment of more than $800,000,000 in subways, the mayor's program calls for a total investment by the city of considerably more than $900,000,000. The proposed municipal system, according to the mayor, will consist of 237 miles of lines, 128 miles of which are to be new, with a system of transfers from one line to another.

EXHUME GIRL'S BODY; FRACTURE OF SKULL FOUND

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 27.—[Special] From a grave in the Oak Grove cemetery at Leroy, Ill., where the body of Edna F. Skinner, Bloomington girl, was buried, evidence was unearthed today by Colorado and local authorities which is alleged to still further strengthen the case against Albert J. Lowe, brother-in-law, suspected slayer of the girl. The last link in the possible chain of evidence is a fracture of the skull found above the right ear.

This seems to be the most damaging bit of evidence, as the defendant is said to have admitted that he was the only one in his home at the time the girl was killed, presumably from an explosion, July 2. The stove has been found intact and is held by the authorities to disprove the theory that a flying piece of metal might have caused the girl's death.

The body was exhumed this afternoon and examined at a Leroy undertaker's room. Authorities present were District Attorney Louis E. Reed, of Greeley, Colo., where Lowe is under arrest, J. E. Hamilton, state investigator from the district attorney's office, and Lee McReynolds, coroner of McLean county. Dr. E. B. Hart was engaged by the state of Colorado and will later go to the trial as a witness.

Brothers of Accused Present

J. J. Skinner, father of the girl, was also present. William and John Lowe, brothers of the man under suspicion, remained throughout the examination, and at its conclusion asked that the stomach be opened. This was done, but nothing unusual was found.

The skull fracture was apparently caused by a blow above the ear. Four cuts were found on the top of the head, left side and also on the back. It is the theory of the prosecutor that a hatchet had been used, the assailant first striking the girl a blow with the head of the instrument and then cutting her with it.

The Colorado authorities will leave the city tomorrow. District Attorney Reed says effort will be made to have Lowe brought to trial in September.

Information will be filed in the Circuit court as soon as the attorney reaches Greeley, and the original proceedings will be quashed, he said.

Points to Other Evidence.

In commenting upon the case, the district attorney said a feature of the case was the fact that the feet of the dead girl were close to the door, indicating that her life might have been easily saved if an effort had been made.

That Lowe might have plotted to kill his own wife the day before he was arrested is another theory of Colorado officials. A letter was written to Mrs. Lowe, presumably by Lowe, although unsigned, requesting her to meet the writer that night at a certain secluded spot overlooking a cliff, and saying: "I am the man who saw you at the picnic and would like to meet you."

It is the theory of the coroner that Lowe plotted to kill his wife to prevent her from giving evidence against him, fearing she was becoming suspicious of him.

RUNAWAY GIRL, 14, EARNS OWN WAY 4 MONTHS

"I don't want to go to school; I want to work," said Elsie Niemiec, 14 years old.

"Such a child," sighed her mother. Five minutes later Elsie, $4, and a bundle of clothing went out to conquer the economic world. And—unlike the disillusioned heroines of the good old moral books—she did it!

For four months she supported herself in girls' style by working as a waitress in a restaurant at 306 West Chicago avenue. Saturday evenings' merriment made her call up mother, although she didn't give an address. The police traced the call.

At first Elsie refused to admit her identity when Sergeant Louis Phanckuch yesterday confronted her.

PAIR HOLD UP 6 IN STORE WHILE CROWD PASSES

While crowds of uptown Chicagoans moved through the bright lights of the Wilson avenue and Broadway district last night, two polite youths in a touring car exhibited the business end of two automatic pistols to Moses Bacon, delicatesse man at 4835 Broadway and five of his customers and made away with $350 from his cash register.

While the holdup was in progress many persons passed the front of the store. No one gave the alarm, however, until the two youths knocked at the door and made away in their car. The customers were not molested.

ANALYSIS OF NEW TARIFF BILL AND ONE IT DISPLACES

Chemical Schedule Said to Equal an Embargo.

(This is the first of a series of articles explaining the chief points of difference in the tariff bills as passed by the house and senate and which are now being adjusted in conference.)

By ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—(Special)—Bumblings of dissatisfaction with the terrible tariff provisions of the senate tariff bill are being heard among the protectionists of the house.

Representative Watson (D.), who is a Republican member of the house ways and means committee, declared his opposition to the proposition in a statement today.

Mr. Watson, who is a high protectionist, also renewed his advocacy of the American valuation plan.

Mr. Watson expresses the belief that the granting of authority to the President and the tariff commission to change rates of duty "may ultimately lead to government control and bureaucracy, politics not consistent with our form of government and contrary to the spirit of the American people and the tradition of our republic."

Tentation that the duties proposed in the chemical schedule are necessary for the protection of the domestic industry and the take exception to the fundamental policy involved.

Duties Equal to Embargo.

The greatest amount of controversy in the tariff conference connected with this schedule centers about the duties on dyes. The question of a dye embargo is not at issue, inasmuch as neither the house nor the senate contains an embargo provision.

The house ways and means committee were in accord on this policy of making rates so high as to enable the chemical industries developed in this country during the war to gain a permanent foothold.

Duties High and Higher.

Where there are differences in the senate and house chemical duties it is usually the case that one rate is high and the other is higher. Hence, in the case of this schedule, which is No. 1 in the tariff bill, the task of the conference is not so much to determine a fundamental policy as it is to ascertain how high the rates can go without being unduly burdensome on the manufacturers.

The chemical industry, probably more than any other, was anxious for the adoption of American valuation as provided in the house bill. Because of no change in foreign valuation in the senate bill the degree of protection in some instances is less in this particular schedule in the senate bill than in the house measure.

According to a Democratic estimate rates of duty in the chemical schedule of the senate bill average from 48 to 60 per cent higher than those in the former Payne-Aldrich law, which were considerably greater than those in the existing Underwood act.

Farm Bloc Computation.

A computation made by a farm bloc senator, who was attempting to justify the rates in the senate bill showed that eighty items of the chemical schedule had equivalent ad valorem rates based on foreign valuation in the senate bill 13 per cent on the senate bill, 20 per cent on the house bill, 11 per cent in the Payne-Aldrich law, and 15 per cent in the Underwood law.

The McCumber bill as reported from the finance committee to the senate contained forty-four items in the chemical schedule in which duties were the same as in the Underwood act, sixty-seven items on which duties were the same as in the Payne-Aldrich law, 223 items on which rates were higher than the Underwood act, and 185 items in which they were higher than the Payne-Aldrich act.

The Republicans, who are responsible for the tariff bill, declared with pride that the chemical schedule for the first time in the history of the country will furnish adequate protection for the domestic industry.

Heretofore, they state, the tariff laws have protected the inorganic chemical industry, but have failed to do so in the case of the organic and synthetic products, allowing the Germans to supply practically the entire dye and synthetic drug consumption of the United States.

"A BUSINESS MAN'S INVESTMENT"

both selected proposals along this line. The senate bill rates of duty on dyes are so high as to be 100 per cent equivalent to an embargo. These duties are 10½ cents per pound plus 25 per cent on intermediates, and 10½ cents plus 50 per cent on finished dyes. These ad valorem duties are based on the American selling price, being the only item in the entire senate bill on which American valuation is applied.

On the basis of the average American selling price of dyes produced in the United States in 1921, which was $1.69 per pound, these rates would be equivalent to a duty of about 100 per cent or several times that on a foreign valuation basis.

Duties in the house bill were 7 cents per pound plus 25 per cent American valuation, on intermediates, and 7 cents per pound plus 50 per cent American valuation, on finished dyes. Under the duties applying in the senate bill the President may decrease these duties on dyes, but not increase them.

Vegetable Oil Provisions.

Next to dyes the items in schedule No. 1 which have occasioned the greatest amount of discussion are those relating to vegetable oils. Agricultural organizations, especially the dairy associations, have urged high duties on vegetable oils, their interest being primarily due to the fact that some of these oils are used in butter substitutes. Some of the agricultural interests have also sought protection as a means of encouraging the growing of such oil bearing seeds as soybean and peanuts.

In the house bill duties of 2 cents per pound were imposed on cotton seed, 6 cents per pound on peanut oil. These duties were not high enough to suit the farm bloc and the finance committee accordingly raised the rate on cotton seed and soybean oil to 2 cents, and on coconut and peanut oil to 4 cents.

The finance committee, however, added a proviso permitting the use of oils used for nondisel purposes, such as in the manufacture of soap. The agricultural interests made an attack upon these provisions and the result was that the proviso was struck out in the senate.

UNCLE SAM HIT BY PROFITEERS
IN P. O. LEASES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—(By Associated Press)—Government ownership of post office buildings in every city and town in the United States where none now is owned has been proposed to congress by Postmaster General Work with the approval of President Harding.

The President's approval, administration officials said today, was based upon reports showing that the plan, once put into effect, would mean a saving to the government of approximately half a billion dollars within the next ten years.

Administration leaders in congress, regarding the undertaking as an important business reform, and destined to check profiteering in rentals, were prepared, it was said, to urge immediate enactment of legislation, providing for a nation wide postal building program.

There are at present, according to reports submitted by the administration, 5,826 post offices in leased quarters and only about 1,300 in buildings owned by the government.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—Internal revenue collections fell off $1,398,000,000 in the last fiscal year ending June 30 as compared with the year before, reflecting the business depression which swept over the country. Only the District of Columbia of all the states and territories showed an increase in income and profits taxes paid, its total being $9,715,000 or 21 per cent more than in 1921.

Food that makes red blood!

Kellogg's whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing flavor of whole wheat for the first time—are wonderful makers of red blood, of bone, and of tissue!

Compare the red-blooded man or woman with puny, undernourished types, then you'll realize why every child should eat KRUMBLES every day to become rugged and enjoy robust health; to become physically courageous and mentally keen; to be able to go into the world READY to take a leading part!

KRUMBLES are a perfectly balanced food. They contain every vital food element! KRUMBLES counteract the effect of the denatured foods we eat—foods robbed of life-sustaining elements!

KRUMBLES eaten daily renew the strength of men and women workers and provide food that sustains the aged. All grocers sell KRUMBLES!

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

MIXED ECONOMIC INFLUENCES GIVE WALL ST. PUZZLE

The New York Times.

New York, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—It is under a curiously mixed array of economic influences that we are approaching the end of summer and the resumption of business activities. Summing up the situation of the moment, as it bears on the financial markets, the emphasis will naturally first be laid on the fact that the soft coal strike is terminated and with it the critical position of the manufacturing industry; also, that, while the railway shopmen's strike continues, it has the appearance of a lost battle and no longer arouses apprehension of a sympathetic strike by the operators. In this respect, the position has so far changed for the better from what it was to be a fortnight ago as to vindicate the judgment of the financial markets on that time.

On the other hand, two large uncertainties have been injected into the situation—one of the intimation of government action against the coal miners if the strike of those miners is not resolved, and of such railways as do not move their ability to handle traffic and equipment; the other the bewildering currency panic which has broken out in Germany. The antisemitic problem is an extremely grave one, not least because of the blinminous threat it is distinct from the soft coal supply, particularly in the sense that it was generally felt that this intervention of direct governmental intervention would force the operators and miners to terms.

Railway Strike Obscure.

The question of seizure of railways is more obscure, both in respect to probability of conditions arising which would be held to warrant it, and in respect to the actual resultant situation. Capacity of the roads for transportation and distribution has not yet been tested by a full movement of soft coal from the mines. In other traffic the railroads as a whole have continued to do a good work under the handicap of the strike. The strike of the fact that the last weekly report of loadings showed increases of 45,000 cars, or 8 per cent over the same week in 1921, and of 600, or 26 per cent over 1919, and the fact that loadings of general merchandise have in some recent weeks nearly equalled the highest record shows no visible indication of a breakdown.

It is in the performance of individual roads, especially on the routes of active coal traffic, that the situation is more difficult to judge. The fall of the German mark last week to one-half the value of ten days before one-third of the value as of the end of July, and one-fifth of the value quoted at the end of June, has had the natural result of reviving the not unfamiliar prediction of the approaching collapse of Germany. The trouble with prophecy of this sort, however, is that rarely specifies what is to be in the nature of the coming collapse. Subsequent judgment in this country and in Europe does not look for overturn of the government or cessation of foreign trade or reliance on anarchy.

Tobacco Keeps Producing.

Germany continues to be a producer and trader on an immense scale; her goods are in request in the outside world; her tax paying capacity is standing the test of adjustment to the present scale of prices and the disposition even of the opportunity appears to be to leave to the present régime the unpleasant task of running the country with a currency depreciated 90 per cent and a reparations problem hopelessly complicated by that depreciation.

There are ways in which economic activity can continue even with prices 140 times as high as in 1914. A country with the mark declining from half a cent to one-quarter of a cent in the first part of the present year, was able to export 1,000,000 tons of the average 2,100-ton tons of merchandise and to import 2,600,000, has bought from the United States in the last reported month $23,000,000 worth of goods and sold $25,000,000, has evidently the means of continuing its commercial existence.

LONDON MARKET HAS QUIET WEEK; TEXTILES REVIVE

By ROBERT STEWART
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The quiet caution inspired by the demoralization of the continental exchanges, characterized the week's markets, where there was little animation with the exception of a few individual features. At times an anxious feeling prevailed as to the course of the reparations drama and in consequence the operators were constrained to draw in their reins.

At the beginning of the week the markets in opening showed signs of expansion with an indication of more general interest, but the optimism was rudely interrupted by the mark demoralization and the new developments. However, there was no real selling pressure, though a good deal of stock came out in the further fall of the French government and railway bonds. The markets closed with reports that the French virtually agreed to a moratorium upon all arrears.

The assumption of Michael Collins had little direct influence on the market, the view being the event was likely to consolidate the forces of order in Ireland.

The leading British government stocks showed recovery during the week, the war loan offering below 100. The commercial loan, consols, and treasury securities were all down 1 to 2 points.

The worst development the stock exchange faced during the week has been the heavy realization on Kafra in the Paris market, but the situation here is still healthy. A bright feature in foreign rails was the Leopoldina.
